	<input type="checkbox"/> Fall Semeseter

Instructions to the Spiritual Reference: Your candid responses will assist Communityfor in its selection process. If accepted, the above applicant will live in Oaxaca, México, working in community development under the supervision of the Field Coordinator.

Communityfor is an international arm of Community of Faith, a nondenominational church with campuses in Houston, Texas and Cancún, México. Communityfor has ongoing projects in México, Costa Rica, and Zambia, with plans for intelligent expansion currently underway. Our projects in Oaxaca include water pumping and purification, basic agriculture and animal husbandry, micro-enterprise and social entrepreneurship, and more. Selected interns will be provided the opportunity to learn about these projects, to engage with minority indigenous cultures, to practice leadership development, and to study the moral and theological underpinnings of our work.

For more information about the church, please visit <http://www.communityoffaith.tv>. For more information about Communityfor, including information on current projects and short biopic films introducing community partners from around the world, please visit <http://www.communityfor.org>.
